Information Graphics

Duration: 3 weeks (5 ECTS)

Course objectives

The student will know and understand the principles that are the basis of verbo-visual communication and know and use the most ordinary methods for the production of graphics with verbo-visual information value (infographics).

The students will

- prepare maps with infographic content
- visualize various kinds of data as well as know and understand the difference between the most common types of graphs and diagrams
- explain dynamic processes by using verbo-visual techniques
- combine the above techniques into more complex infographic layouts
- conduct own research to use for verbo-visual communication
- analyse and assess examples of infographics.

Tools

Analysis, sketching, mastering software.

Attributes

Creativity, drawing skills, interest in communication and journalism.

Methods

The course is a combination of lectures, group tuition, group work, self-study, tutorials and executing assignments. Assignments and projects are worked on individually or in groups. During the course, importance is placed on analysis and reflection on feedback on the student's own as well as other students' products and process.

Learning goals

After completing the course, the student will have insight and knowledge of:

- the four genres of infographics: maps, data visualization, overview and insight drawings as well as process descriptions
- the history of infographics as well as various schools of thought and trends
- the role of infographics in relation to and in interaction with other forms of expression within mass communication
- picture value and information value
- advantages and disadvantages of manual and digital production forms, respectively
- use of software for data visualisation.
